Race Results

8 January, Criteriums, Kewdale

Following an uncomfortably humid and sweltering Saturday, it was a surprise to see 77 riders turn up for the first criterium of the New Year. It was also a surprise and a relief to find that the morning was relatively cool, which made riding conditions comfortable.

The 20-strong 'A' grade set the tone with lots of aggressive riding – folks blasting off the front, the line being stretched and then everyone rejoining. That is until about 15 minutes to go in the 55-minute race, when a group of seven riders formed and slowly pulled away. In the sprint, Andrew Brierley showed his paces when beating George Miller by a couple of lengths and with Matt Tognini, Mark Petterson, Paul Moke, Paul Barizza and Gary Collett coming close behind. Paul Miller led in the remnant bunch, beating Darren Miller, Steph Ratcliffe and the rest of the group.

It was also all stops out in the 23-strong 'B' grade, though no-one managed to tear the bunch apart, leaving the camera-less judges to try and sort out the mass finishing sprint. A bit of cooperation from the riders saw the placings finally sorted out after the judges were unable to agree on the placings in the closely packed bunch after the first three riders. Geoff Marshall showed great form for his forthcoming ride in the Vets Tour Down when he easily took the sprint from Gary Boterhoven and new rider Barry Whiting, with old regular Andrew Duff coming in a close fourth, just half-a-wheel ahead of newly returned Ian McFall, and Laurence Wynne.

'C' grade proved far more considerate for the judges there being sufficient light between the finishers to allow the prize-placings to be taken with ease. 'Sprint King', Frans Karel, returned to the Criterium fold to take out his first victory, something he did with aplomb from regular place-getters Doug Macdonald and Trev Robson. Larry Ross who swore at the beginning of the race that he was a true 'D' grader made a mockery of his own judgement by ending up with a comfortable fourth place, while new rider Steve McKiernan and member from Pommiland, Ernie Lightfoot, took the remaining money prizes.

The fourteen members of 'D' grade rode steadily throughout their 30-minute ordeal, with most of the field remaining together to the final sprint. There were lots of shouts for Sheona Clark as she tried to get away with a lap to go but she was unable to hold off the hungry sprinters of the group. Des Williams made a determined effort from the corner leading into the straight to pull back a flying Paul Crespi in the last 20metres, while Gerry Lawford came in a close third just ahead of Tony Speechley – though because of a swap of numbers the placing was originally given to Heather Sanderson! Heather – your time will come!!

15 January - AHG Motor Complex

The promised heavy humidity and 35 degree heat proved a furphy and the 73 riders who participated at the Airport circuit met with pleasant medium range temperatures and a light breeze. There were a fair number of new riders among the ranks, and especially in the higher grades the number of 'younger' faces was a positive sign for the club.

'A' grade attracted 20 riders and with a class field the pace proved hot. The vital move came 20 minutes into the race when the effervescent George Miller and Andrew Brierley opened up a nice gap that waxed and waned for a while but which towards the end of the race grew steadily wider. The remaining bunch then split into two as the pace began to tell. At the finish George rolled over the line just ahead of Andrew, while in the fight for third place it was new rider Doug Stewart who proved too fast for the 'green flash' Dave Townson, with Gary Collett and Matt Tognini taking the next two places and cash awards.

More by accident than design, 'B' grade sported the same number of starters as 'A'. Again the pace was hot but most attempts to breakaway came to nought. Phil Johnston, Steve Rouse and Enzo Cadelli were early animators, though Enzo later seemed to suffer for his efforts when dropping behind the bunch. Ian McFall tried out his legs for a couple of solo laps around the 15-minute mark but what looked like the break of the day came after 25 minutes when Andrew Duff, Garth O'Leary, Phil Johnston and Laurence Wynne opened up a substantial gap, that split the field into three bunches. However, there was some regrouping in the final few laps and this left the result wide open. Strongman of the day proved to be Phil Johnston who had been in almost every move, when he sprinted up the straight to beat the fast-improving Alan Clark, Garth O'Leary, Steve Dodd, new rider Dean Carroll, and Laurence Wynne.

With 18 starters 'C' grade moved at a fast but steady-looking pace, though a few drop outs suggested some surging during the race. The man destined no doubt for 'B' grade was eventual winner Darren Lee who broke away on his own to hold off the bunch for the last 10 minutes or so. Bruce Bussey was in good form when taking second place from the consistent Doug Macdonald, with Damien Appleton again appearing in the first four placings. Ernie Lightfoot maintained his 100% record of being in the money, as did Trev Robson in 6th place. Apologies to finishers but the camera decided to play up at the crucial moment leaving the judges on their own!

There were 13 starters in 'D' grade and disproving the unlucky number thesis, there were 13 finishers. Tony Speechley took the most aggressive rider award when he got away from his compatriots 20-minutes into the race but later suffered for his sins when absorbed. Surprise winner in a lightning strike sprint was Shane White – a surprise because he thought he had a lap to go and a surprise because this was only his second ride back after his accident some months ago. The ever-alert Des Williams ruined his campaign to be placed in 'E' grade when he beat renowned sprinters Gerry Lawford, Denis Robinson and Rod Babel when taking third place.

22 January, Criteriums, Kewdale

A fair number of new faces among the 77 starters meant there were few prepared to bet on the results of the day's races. A stiff breeze blowing into the faces on the finishing straight saw only a couple of riders make serious attempts to chance their luck by riding off the front of the field, though 'A' grade, in particular, saw some viscous attacks, all of which were soon negated, resulting in mass finishes in all grades.

After 55-minutes of racing the premier grade riders were still full of fire and with 30 metres to go there were five or six riders in serious contention. However, first time rider Doug Stewart managed to edge out a flying Paul Brown in the lunge to the line, with George Miller finishing a close third after leading for much of the way up the straight. In turn, Andrew Brierley pushed Dave Townson into fifth place, while Gary Collett filled the last place in the prize-list.

'B' grade with 25 starters was the largest field of the day. Bravest of the brave was Garth O'Leary who ventured off the front in the last 15-minutes of the race only to be caught with a lap to go. This at least made the sprinters happy and the finish proved a battle royal between the two Micks, Mick Russell and Mick Johnston, with the former taking the line just centimetres ahead of the latter. New rider Brian Williams narrowly outsprinted Ian MacFall, Barry Whiting, Gary Boterhoven and the rest of the closely packed field.

The twenty-strong 'C' grade saw no heroics though there was a fair pace set throughout the race. Yet again featuring in the prize-list was Damien Appleton who beat Andrew Bennett riding in his comeback race, both thus catching the interested gaze of the handicapper as potential 'B' graders. Old timers and regular prize-winners Doug Macdonald, Colin Rossiter, Bruce Bussey, Jeff Usher and Trev Robson were next across the line, while the only female rider in the group, Annie Bramley rode prominently throughout the race to finish eighth.

The 15 starters in 'D' grade faced the strong breeze by wisely staying together throughout the race, leaving the verdict to a frantic dash over the final three hundred metres. Turning a low gear into the wind, Paul Crespi overcame the big pushers, while regular 'trackies' Denis Robinson and Pat Briggs filled the next two places. The ever-threatening Gerry Lawford just edged out Ray Craig to take fourth place while Lindsay Froyland improved greatly over recent performances when taking sixth. Fortunately the judges were able to record these places, for two largish gentlemen decided at the crucial moment to place themselves between the camera and the bunch, thus leaving the remaining placings to be lost to posterity!

29 January, 'Jim Thompson Memorial' Criteriums, Rockingham

The hardy annual organized by Peel CC in memory of Jim Thompson who met a tragic end at one of our veteran races some years ago, attracted an excellent field of 78 riders. The unusual cool-come-chilly weather continued in contrast to previous years when riders complained about excessive heat and de-hydration. With it being a points race there was lots of action though the puzzle of the day occurred in 'B' grade where the field allowed two riders, Steve Dodd and Bryan Williams to dangle off the front to share the points!! Consequently Bryn came out the points winner not only of the grade but also of the overall prize for the rider scoring the most points out of A, B, C and D grades. In 'A' grade Paul Brown dominated the sprinting, taking three 1st places and a fourth place, while new member Doug Stewart also showed fine form taking four 2nd places to finish two points ahead of 'Dynamic Dave' Townson. A puncture suffered by George Miller on a corner, with two laps to go caused panic in the bunch, allowing a small group to take advantage and open up a gap, allowing John Van Vliet to pick up five valuable points that put him in the prize-list.

As mentioned above, Bryan Williams took out first place in 'B' grade scoring two 1st and three 2nd places. His breakaway mate Steve Dodd accumulated 11 points but this was only enough to put him in third place, for Ian McFall who also ended up with the same score took out 2nd place on a countback. Bryan Williams also took out the Jim Thompson trophy for overall points winner out of all grades (determined on a formulae to take account of the number of sprints per grade).

'C' grade saw some inspired riding by Darren Lee and Damien Appleton, each finishing with two 1st places, with the final decision going Darren's way when he took out a 2nd sprint place to a 4^h place by Damien. Doug Macdonald admitted to 'not firing' on the day, yet still finished in 3^d place, one point ahead of Bob Stephens.

One of the best rides of the day saw Stan Baker take three out of the four sprints in 'D' grade. He was up against strong opposition in Dave Lee who scored a 1st and two 2nd places, while Tony Ridgley managed a 2nd and two 3rd places.

'E Grade' had its own competition, with Jack Iveson riding as if possessed to score 13 points when taking two 1st and a 2nd place out of the three sprints. The other 1st place went to Bob Norton, while Brian Paxman with two 2nd places and a 4th place mopped up third on points.

Points: 5,3,2,1.

5 February, Wangara Criteriums

Another well attended race run in excellent conditions with temperatures in the high 20s. Again, lots of new faces among the 68 starters that helped breath life into the bunches. 'A' grade with 18 riders was hotly contested from the word 'go' and as well as some blistering attacks there was a great deal of surging that made the race even more painful for the competitors. In a closely contested sprint Doug Stewart again proved his prowess when beating Wayne Thompson and Dave Townson across the line, with Paul Moke who had done much of the 'driving' during the race finishing in close contention for fourth. So close together were Gary Collett and Dom Bruehwiler, tit required the camera to determine their placings.

Largest field of the day was in 'B' grade where 22 riders rode their hearts out in a fast and furious event. There were a number of hard attacks on the 'rise'. Grant Alexander and Barry Whiting looked dangerous around the 30-minute mark, Keith Winch and Mike Watson with less than 10 minutes to go, and Brian Farrelly on the final couple of laps. However, the finish was again decided in a bunch sprint, and despite his earlier efforts it was Brian Farrelly who took the verdict over Keith Winch and Barry Whiting, the remainder of the money prizes going to Lee Parker, Ed Campbell, Dale Commach and Dave Bebee in that order.

Among the best performances of the day were those by Bruce Bussey and Mike Bonner who broke away after a few laps to almost lap the field. Mike Bonner really surprised, for as a rider new to the sport he had hung off the back of the bunch for the previous three races – but obviously a quick learner he put everything together at Wangara to put in an excellent performance that impressed the handicapper among others! In the bunch sprint, Bob Stephens showed his strength by holding off Steve Marks and his old adversaries Trev Robson, Bill Crout and Roy Swift in what was a closely contested fight to the line. Unfortunately the camera decided to have a hiccup, so only the first seven places were recorded.

The eleven riders in 'D' great were in attacking mood. Early antagonists were Brian Paxman and Sheona Clark but 'man-of-the-match' award went to Tony Speechley who proved his recent rides in the English Pennines paid dividends when he soloed away to his first ever victory with the club. Tony finished a good 300metres ahead of the bunch that was led out by the oldest man in the race, 78-year old Ray Craig who used his Kiwi cunning to hold off Lindsay Froyland and Leo Enright for the cash prizes.

Injury Column

We were sorry to hear that Andrew Duff was hit from behind by a car when out training a few weeks ago. We are, however, glad to report that he's on the mend and apart from suffering from aching ribs and a sore ankle he says he's ok. He hopes to get back to the racing in a few weeks riding on a super duper new machine, as his steed was demolished in the altercation. See you soon Andrew.

Insurance & Membership Renewal

Don't wait until you race before taking out a licence – let Andrew Duff's experience during training be a lesson to slow-joiners (Andrew did have our cover). Our QBE Insurance covers training so you're not doing yourself a favour if you delay paying.
